Al Ain University Participates in Breast Cancer Awareness Campaign

The Deanship of Student Affairs at Al Ain University of Science and Technology, based in Al Ain, participated in the effectiveness of an awareness campaign for breast cancer. It was organized by Al Ain Mall, which included a rally of 2.3 km from the main gate of the Al Ain Mall. The rally was accompanied by African drummers to spice it up.

The University has also participated in locating its own pavilion in the exhibition by distributing leaflets for breast cancer prevention, and some students conducted musical performances aiming at raising cancer awareness.
