The Nutrition students enhance awareness of Food Safety

The College of Pharmacy at Al Ain University, Al Ain campus, organized an awareness event under the theme "Food Safety, Nutrition, and health", where the Nutrition students prepared posters to raise awareness about routines in the preparation, handling, and storage of food meant to prevent foodborne illness and injury.

Dr. Khairi Mustafa, Dean of the College of Pharmacy, accompanied by a number of college professors, reviewed the student's work, listened to the information provided, and participated in cultural competitions held by students to professors for entertainment.

The event aims to stress, safe food handling practices and procedures and their importance to maintain population health and prevent consumers harm.
