Mar 11, 2025

Interactive Activities Promote Reading Culture on the Occasion of World Reading Day

As part of the Month of Reading activities, the Deanship of Student Affairs at Al Ain University – Abu Dhabi Campus organized a book fair to instill a love of reading and spread the culture of reading among students.

The event was held in an inspiring, interactive atmosphere and witnessed a wide attendance of students and faculty members. The activities offered during the event included group reading sessions in which students discussed a selection of books.

The event was met with great interaction and a remarkable turnout, reflecting students' growing interest in developing their reading skills and actively participating in cultural events.

The organizers emphasized the importance of these initiatives in creating a university environment that encourages reading, contributing to developing student awareness and enhancing their engagement in intellectual and cognitive activities.

Press Release Link